

Marine debris is everyone's problem.

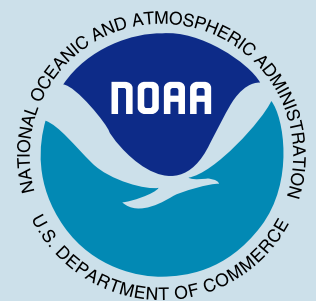

State of Hawaii

Marine debris threatens marine life and our oceans and coasts. It affects us too, whether we are boating, fishing, swimming, or simply enjoying a day at the beach. Trash can travel through storm drains, streams, and rivers and end up in your community, as well as in the ocean.

Learn ways to stop this from happening.

www.marinedebris.noaa.gov